

WORLD HOPEFUL THAT PEACE WILL COME WITHIN A FEW HOURS; WORD OF JAPAN'S SURRENDER TENSELY AWAITED; NO LET-UP SHOWN IN HEAVY FIGHTING IN THE PACIFIC

1500 Planes Pour Destruction on Tokyo Through-out Sunday

HAMMERING IN ASIA

High Gov't Officials Look For Favorable Japanese Reply

By William K. Hutchinson
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(INS)—A world hopeful that peace may come within a matter of hours, after six agony-filled years of battling, early today still tensely awaited word of Japan's decision on the "Big Four" surrender terms. There was no let-up in heavy Pacific fighting. Fifteen hundred carrier-based planes of the U. S. Third Fleet poured destruction again Sunday on Tokyo. A heavy U. S. warship was torpedoed off Okinawa.

On the continent of Asia, Russian and Chinese troops continued their blows at the reeling, doomed Japanese.

Here in the nation's capital, high government officials felt certain a favorable Japanese reply would arrive sometime Monday to end the war.

President Truman was again "on the alert" at the White House, standing by to tell an awaiting world that peace had, at long last, come.

He retired shortly after 9:30 p. m. EWT, Sunday after waiting like hundreds of millions of Allied citizens for word of peace on the Sabbath.

Japan's final surrender was expected because their only alternative is to be utterly destroyed.

As the hours passed with no reply, there remained the possibility that the fanatical Japanese might commit national suicide by refusing peace. They have been fed for generations on the code of Samurai, Banzai charges, Kamikaze suicide attacks, and self destruction by Hara-Kiri. They might possibly decide to reject the surrender terms.

The Allied terms allow Emperor Hirohito to remain on the throne under the will of the Japanese people, but under absolute Allied military control of the Japanese Government. Tokyo was told in no uncertain terms, too, that the provisions laid down in the Potsdam ultimatum include demilitarizing of Japan, destruction of her industrial power to make war, loss of all possessions taken by conquest, and punishment for her war criminals.

An American High Commander, who will be Gen. Douglas MacArthur, is expected to arrive in Japan.

Found Injured Along Route 13, South of Mill St.

Found dazed and injured along Route 13, south of Mill street, Joseph Tangredi, 1015 Wood street, was later treated for cuts and bruises at the Harriman Hospital.

It was at 12:15 yesterday morning that Tangredi was found near the Voltz gasoline station by Elmer Spadaccino, Patrick Squillace and Amadio Fioravanti. A bicycle was lying nearby. The injured man was taken to the Harriman Hospital, where he was treated for abrasions of the knees, forehead, and an injured shoulder.

Police were told that Tangredi left the Rohm & Haas plant to ride to his home. He says that he does not know what happened to him. His bicycle was not damaged.

ALLIED REPLY TO JAPANESE PEACE PROPOSALS NOT RECEIVED UNTIL TODAY

London.—A Reuter's dispatch quoting the Japanese Domei Agency reported today that the Allied reply to the Japanese surrender offer was received in Tokyo only today. Reuter's reported that the Domei dispatch, dated Tokyo, Aug. 13, said:

"It is authoritatively disclosed that the official text of the Allied reply to the Japanese Government's message was received in Tokyo today, Monday, through the Swiss legation."

CHINESE COMMUNISTS ORDERED TO ATTACK

Chungking.—Chinese Communist forces today were under orders to launch widespread attacks on Japanese armies and communication lines in China and Manchuria.

Gen. Chu Teh, Chinese Communist commander-in-chief, issued the order 24 hours after he had told his forces to arrange for the disarmament or acceptance of surrender of Jap units in view of Tokyo's peace proposal.

According to the Communists' new China news agency, Chu Teh directed four of his companies to move into Manchuria to co-operate with the Red Army and prepare to accept the enemy's surrender. Other commanders in Shansi Province were told to drive into Taiyuan, capital of the province, while other vigorous attacks were called for against virtually all important railway lines.

"In carrying out the above tasks, all difficulties must be overcome and all activities of Japanese and puppet blocking the advance must be smashed," the orders read. "Resolutely annihilate, if resistance is encountered."

4 MEN MIRACULOUSLY ESCAPE DEATH IN TWO AIR CRASHES IN BUCKS CO. YESTERDAY; ONE PLANE IN THE RIVER

Two aircraft accidents occurred in Bucks County yesterday, these being the only accidents reported at any state police barracks in the county, it is stated. Highway accidents were nil.

In the two crashes, one involving an airplane at Lumberville, and the other involving a glider at the Philadelphia Glider Port between Silverdale and Chalfont, four persons miraculously escaped death. Injuries were slight.

The accident at Lumberville at 1:35 p. m. involved a PT-19 monoplaner, a former army training plane. The pilot was William Clinton Addison, 39, of Lakewood, N. J., who holds a second class commercial pilot's license. His passenger was "Jerry" Newman, 40, a deaf mute of Asbury Park, N. J. Addison informed police that he had flown from Princeton, N. J., to Bucks Co., at various altitudes, he saying he was trying to improve the hearing

False Peace Report Starts Off A Celebration Here

False announcement last night at 9:33, that Japan had accepted the Allied counter proposal for peace set off the beginning of a celebration on Mill street which had all of the makings of a real jubilation.

When the announcement, credited to the United Press, came over the radio, crowds gathered in the street. A large radio amplifier from the Profy Radio Shop was turned into high so that the announcement which had electrified radio listeners, could be heard from one end of Mill street to the other.

Automobile horns blew, men and boys threw their hats into the air and individuals slapped each other on the back. One sailor tossed his hat into the air. A small boy ran to the fire station of Bristol Fire Co., No. 1, and yelled "ring the bell."

One individual appeared with a bottle which looked as if it was filled with liquor. He was prepared to drink a toast to peace.

Those assembled in private clubs immediately began to celebrate. Then the correction came over the radio.

PEDESTRIAN BRIDGE TO SPAN THE RIVER

Will Provide Crossing Between Lumberville and Raven Rock

COVERED SPAN TO GO

A new pedestrian bridge is to be built by the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission between Lumberville, N. J., and Raven Rock, Pa. The pedestrian bridge will provide a crossing between the two communities, the covered bridge having been closed, and plans being made for its removal.

The Commission approved by unanimous vote a motion made by R. Chapman Carver, one of the commissioners from Pennsylvania, to erect a foot crossing. A previous motion made by the same commissioner to erect a vehicular and pedestrian bridge was voted down.

According to a report given to Assemblyman Thomas B. Stockham by the Bridge Commission, this pedestrian crossing will enable the residents of the two communities to have the benefit of train service, mail delivery, and to be able to shop in the two communities and also provide a means of social intercourse.

The cost of the enterprise, it is stated, would be $55,000. The New Jersey Commission has a reserve of more than its half of the cost from bridge flood-lighting and extra war patrol service funds which remain unexpended.

A petition has been filed with Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer for monies to pay Pennsylvania's share as provided by law, and as soon as this amount is granted by Secretary Shroyer work will begin.

"Pathfinder," a magazine of national circulation, recently contained a picture of the bridge, and in an article said "When Vermont repaired to replace its century-old Newfane covered bridge with modern concrete and steel, villagers formed the '1841 Covered Bridge Association.' With a thousand sentimental dollars they'll move the rumbling bridge. In the eighteen fifties, cheap iron, dearer wood, spelled doom to the romantic American land marks. With few erected after 1880, covered bridge building is a lost art."

It is estimated that a two-lane steel bridge will cost about $250,000. It is the hope of residents of the community that the Commission will one day recognize the charm in a covered bridge, and build a new wooden one as a Delaware Valley symbol of a wonderful romantic past.

Pfc. McCready En Route Home With 5 Battle Stars

WITH THE 35TH INFANTRY DIVISION, ASSEMBLY AREA COMMAND, France, Aug. 13.—PFC Michael M. McCready is en route home from Europe with the 5-star "Santa Fe" Division, which in ten months battled across the Elbe River to within 42 miles from Berlin.

Hitting Omaha Beach, July 7, 1944, the 35th fought the Germans from St. Lo, broke the counter-offensive at Mortain, swept across France, cracked into Germany's Saar Valley on December 12, and then whipped into Belgium and Luxembourg to wither Von Rundstedt's Ardennes bulge. Following a shift to the Vosges Mountains, the Division dashed 300 miles north through Holland to jump the Roer and Rhine rivers, crush the Siegfried Line defenses, and scoop up more than 30,000 PW's by V-E Day, to mark the end of more than 1600 combat miles in the ETO.

PFC McCready holds the following decoration: Presidential Citation and three battle stars.

Father Too Far Away To Reach Son in Time To Save Him

CROYDON, Aug. 13.—A Philadelphia youth drowned in the Delaware River off Second avenue, Saturday afternoon. The body was recovered a short time later.

The victim was Paul Klembith, 14, 2213 W. Lehigh avenue.

The drowning occurred within sight of a brother of the victim, with the father of the two boys but a short distance away.

The father and two sons came here Saturday afternoon to fish and to spend a pleasant afternoon in pastimes that they always enjoyed together. The parent and his one surviving son accompanied the body of Paul back to Philadelphia Saturday evening.

Paul dove off the boat, and it is said that when he came near to the surface of the water he struck his head on the bottom of the boat. It is reasoned that he was stunned.

The trio upon arrival here hired a boat and rowed about the river and fished. Both boys, considered good swimmers, donned bathing suits and went into the water.

COLONEL BELL AND REGIMENT GIVEN HAZARDOUS TASKS

Former Bristolian and Men Build 'Phoenixes' During Flying Bomb Raids

CLEAR THE BEACHES

Col. Frank F. Bell, Veteran of Two World Wars, Visiting Here

Charged with the task of clearing beaches at LeHavre and Ruon of mines and other obstacles, and restoring ports to such condition that Allied ships could gain entrance and unload thereat, Colonel Frank F. Bell and his men of the 373rd Engineer General Service Regiment may well feel proud of successful conclusion of the job assigned, and of the Meritorious Unit Service Plaque awarded the Regiment.

In co-operation with the United States and British Navies the tasks were carried on simultaneously at the two ports, with Colonel Bell, a former resident of Bristol, as project engineer.

Colonel Bell, now a resident of Dallas, Texas, where he is vice-president of the Uvalde Construction Co., is visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley E. Bell, 824 Radcliffe street. A veteran of World War I, he served as a captain in the Air Corps during the 1917-18 upheaval.

Again called to active duty in December of 1942, Colonel Bell was assigned to the Corps of Engineers of the U. S. Army. He trained his regiment at Camp Claiborne, La. Arriving in England in October, 1943, the Texan and his men remained in the European Theatre of Operations until last month, seeing 21 months service overseas.

While in England the engineers built camps and "Phoenixes," the latter being the famed floating docks of reinforced concrete which were later "ferried" to French ports, there to aid in the great invasion. These huge docks were built along the Thames River under tremendous handicaps of raids by flying bombs.

Just one year ago the regiment went into France over Utah Beach, and there then followed the Brittany campaign. The 373rd was kept busy with mine clearing in the battle for Brest, also with bridge construction work.

It was following the surrender of Brest that Col. Bell's regiment joined the British in the battles for

A. conference in London for about ten days and then will make a comprehensive tour of the continent, visiting those countries whose condition is causing the gravest concern to those who are laboring to restore political, social and economic stability throughout Europe.

The committee, which was accompanied on the Queen Mary by another one under the chairmanship of Congressman Louis C. Rabaut (Dem., Michigan), investigating affairs of the Department of State, has been instructed to return to Washington by September 24th in time to prepare its report for the fall session of Congress.

Third Fleet Planes Bomb Tokyo Area

Guam.—Fifteen hundred avenging Third Fleet carrier airmen flayed the debris-strewn Tokyo area for 12 hours today after a large American warship had been torpedoed at Okinawa in a sneak Jap attack.

The Jap Domei Agency claimed that only a total of 800 planes took part in the lashing raids on airfields, transportation facilities and industrial areas over the Kanto region of east central Honshu.

Domei also claimed that 17 planes had been shot down and at least 25 others damaged.

Admiral William F. Halsey sent his carrier plane force against the heart of Nippon in successive waves, as Jap leaders slowly considered peace at the price of subjecting their emperor to Allied military rule.

KITCHENS FOR LIVING

"In the planning for post-war homes," says the New York Times, "it appears that kitchens are returning to the position they held a century and more ago.
Architects, contractors and home builders are emphasizing the kitchen as the heart of the home.
A few years ago the tendency was to make the kitchen small, compact and efficient. The new trend is to continue the scientific arrangement of stove, sink, working surfaces and refrigerator. But this will be only one phase of a kitchen's usefulness in the future.
The other phase is to make the kitchen into a daytime living room as well.

"As with most forms of architecture, especially homes, the functional aspects of building are determined by living needs and climatic conditions. Two present-day economic factors are determining influences in the trend to enlarge the kitchen and eliminate the dining room. Home builders believe that domestic help will be so expensive after the war that the housewife will do most of her own work. With the assistance of outside services for laundry, house cleaning at periodic intervals and the possibilities for using quick-freeze foods and even quick-frozen meals purchased as a unit, the housewife will want a home that is constructed for efficiency in living.

"The other economic factor is the cost of house building. During the years of the building boom immediately after the war, labor, lumber and other materials will be relatively high. The dining room is usually the most expensive room in the house in terms of hours of service. A large kitchen with space for a table or a dining nook will serve the family's purposes most of the time.
Surveys have shown that many women prefer a larger, longer living room."

LINE OF LEAST RESISTANCE

Reports persist that the cigarette outlook is definitely better, in effect that an addict is no longer to be pitted for not knowing where his next drag is coming from. A carton may still represent wealth beyond the dreams of avarice, but getting a daily pack of smokes at a corner store
no longer holds the aspects of adventure in frustration and finagling in futility. Supply is picking up, and no reference to butts.

Reports by the trade are that supplies of popular brands have risen above any since the early part of 1942, with distributors stating that supplies over a 20 per cent increase represent a normal increase over those available two months ago. Presumably, this is a trend, and, like all trends, given to fluctuation, but at least not because there "is a war on."

But relaxation of the cigarette situation may not prove an unmistakable blessing. The opportunity to buy more smokes may only mean that smokers who have been compelled to get along with hardly any that appealed to them, may hereafter be smoking more than they should, whereas those who have been able to get too many for their own good may be in line to lose the zest of indulgence in a restricted commodity.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol Sept. 27, 1888. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The enterprising publishers of the Langhorne Standard had distributed throughout Bristol yesterday, a large number of extra copies of this week's paper. A column and a half article devoted to a description of Bristol's industries and kindred subjects appear to be the attractive feature of the paper. Bristol has reason to be proud of her rapid advance from an unimportant village to a thriving manufacturing centre, and her citizens would be loath to see anything occur which would bring disaster to our factories. The adoption for a short time of Cleveland's free trade policy would render it impossible for the Standard, or any other newspaper, to truthfully give a gratifying account of the prosperity of Bristol. It would more likely have to be a lamentation over departed greatness.

O Thou Divine Spirit, we give thanks unto Thee that at last the actual warfare is reaching an end. We pray for forgiveness for the part we had in causing the dreadful conflict. We pray for forgiveness for the necessary evils we were forced to utilize during the struggle. Help us to turn the weapons we have forged into instruments of peace. Teach us to be as diligent in the building of a peaceful society as we have been in the pursuit of the victory.

Oh, Father, give wisdom to our leaders, a spirit of loyalty to each of us, and keep us from indifference to the affairs of the world. Teach us humility in time of victory and help us to pass on to unborn generations the lessons we have learned. We offer this prayer in the Name of Thy Christ. Amen.

AMERICAN STEEL STOPS VOLTZ NINE BY 12 TO 6 DEFEAT

Dick Giedlin and Steve Kazma Lead the Assault on Three Hurlers

VOLTZ IN LEAD EARLY

Score Stood at 4 to 4 Until Steelers Came to Bat in the Sixth

Springing a 17-hit attack, the American Steel team stopped the six-game winning streak of the Voltz-Texaco team yesterday afternoon in a Trenton Industrial League tilt on Leedom's field. Final count was: American Steel, 12; Voltz-Texaco, 6.

Leading the assault on the three Voltz hurlers was Dick Giedlin and Steve Kazma. Giedlin, officially, was at the plate four times and delivered a pair of doubles and a single while Kazma went up six times and had a double and three singles. Giedlin crossed the plate four times.

A walk, sacrifice, and hit by Dick gave the gasmen an early 1-0 lead in the first but this was erased in the second when the visitors crossed four times. A run in the second and two more in the third, the latter made on a hit by Angelella, a fielder's choice, a hit batsman, a long fly and another fielder's choice, the Voltzmen to deadlock the score in that frame.

The score stood at 4-4 until the Steelers came to bat in the sixth. A single by Giedlin, a double by Kazma, and a hit by Gampel accounted for a pair of runs and Derisi went sour entirely in the following inning to be relieved by Sullivan. Sullivan pitched until two were out in the eighth and had to be relieved by Howie Black.

"Bill" Griggs was the only Voltz batter to get more than one hit off "Spider" Kelly. He connected for singles in the seventh and ninth inning, driving in the last two Oiler's tallies. Vic Rockhill circled the bags three times to account for three of the Voltz runs.

Col. Bell and Regiment Assigned Hazardous Tasks

LeHavre and Ruon. After the British secured LeHavre, Col. Bell's was the first American troop unit to enter the city.

The citation accompanying the Meritorious Unit Service Plaque, of which the 373rd is justly proud, reads in part: "Despite adverse supply conditions and lack of adequate equipment the 373rd Engineer General Service Regiment completed its mission ahead of schedule. Its clearance of mines and obstacles from beaches, opening of traffic routes through devastated and heavily mined areas, clearance of mines and booby traps from the entire port area of LeHavre, and rehabilitation of utilities within the city, were factors largely responsible for the early movement of supplies through the port. The superior performance, untiring efforts, and incessant devotion to duty displayed by the personnel of the 373rd Engineers General Service Regiment were in keeping with the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States."

During the battle of Ardennes, known generally as the "Bulge," the regiment was ordered up, but only one company reached the front before the advance of the enemy was halted. After finishing the tasks at Le Havre the regiment was then ordered up into Germany where bridges, were erected over the Rhine near Coblenz and Cologne. Numerous prisoner of war camps were built by this outfit at various places from the Rhine to a point some 100 miles east of Frankfurt. Other military engineering work done by the 373rd covered a wide area in Germany. Returning to the United States last month, members of the regiment will, following 30 days temporary duty at home, be reassigned.

Col. Bell has since his return to the States also enjoyed a visit with his son, Capt. Frank F. Bell, 3d, marine aviator, who has just returned from numerous flights in the Pacific area, and last saw his other son, Lt. Edwin Bell, a member of the Army Engineers Corps, in Germany.

Col. Bell is the recipient of the Bronze Star Medal. He and men of his regiment wear battle stars for the Northern France, Rhineland and Central Europe campaigns.

Col. Bell spent his boyhood in Bristol and resided here until he entered the army in 1917.

His brother attempted to grab him and pull him out of the water, but lost his grip. He yelled for his father who was some distance away at the time and was unable to be of aid.

The spot where the drowning occurred is somewhat remote from telephone communication, and before a message was relayed to the Bucks County Rescue Squad, quite some time had elapsed.

Units of the Lower Bucks County Marine Association responded and recovered the body and attempted to revive the boy, but did not meet with success.

ARROWS WILL TRY TO HALT LOSING STREAK TONIGHT

Fleetwings Team Scheduled To Meet Roebbling Team

ARROWS IN CELLAR

Roebbling IX is Now Resting in Second Place in League

The Fleetwings Arrows will attempt to halt their seven-game losing streak this evening as they meet the J. A. Roebbling team in a Trenton Industrial League game which will begin at 6:15 o'clock.

The Arrows' losing streak has dropped them into the cellar but the Eastern Aircraft team has also been losing with the result that the airplane workers are but one full game away from fifth place. They are 5½ games away from a playoff spot.

The Roebbling team is resting in second place, three games away from the league-leading American Steel nine. The Roebbling team has a full game lead on Voltz-Texaco which is in third place with 20 victories and 12 losses.

The schedule in the Trenton loop will keep both local entries busy this week. Tomorrow evening, Roebbling plays Voltz on Leedom's field and on Wednesday evening, American Steel will play the Voltz boys.

Thursday evening finds Fleetwings meeting Eastern Aircraft on Wetzel field, Trenton, while Friday, Voltz meets American Steel on the same field. Next Sunday, Fleetwings travels to Trenton, and Eastern Aircraft meets Voltz on Leedom's diamond.

Your rights to monthly insurance payments and family insurance protection result from your work on jobs covered by the law. Most jobs are covered except farm work, domestic work, self-employment, work for charitable institutions, city, state and federal government, and a few others.

Arthur, will control Japan as Allied Supreme Commander.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross last night stated that there is no "time limit" on a Japanese reply to the Allied surrender terms. Meanwhile the war is being prosecuted relentlessly by the United States and its British, Russian and Chinese allies. No "cease firing" order had gone out he said then, and explained that the fighting will continue until the Japanese reply affirmatively and surrender.

Ross and Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, personal counsel and advisers to the President, last night explained that technically the war with Japan will not end until the President proclaims it or there is a concurrent resolution by Congress.

Congress is to return Sept. 4 or 5 to handle emergency matters growing out of the end of the war. It must pass upon the future of emergency war agencies that would go out of existence automatically six months after the official ending of the war.

Many of the emergency war agencies are expected to have their lives extended.

NEWTOWN, Aug. 13—Dr. Max Isaac Reich, a member of the faculty of Moody Bible Institute, died Saturday in Bryn Mawr Hospital. He was 78 and lived at George School, Pa.

A native of Germany, Dr. Reich was the son of Jewish parents, but was converted to the Christian religion as a young man. He served as an apprentice printer in London and later was recorded as a minister in the Society of Friends.

He came to this country as a preacher and evangelist in 1885, and spent six years in the Indian territory of Kansas and Arkansas. In 1891 he returned to Europe and became widely known as an exponent of the Bible.

He made another trip to the United States in 1913, and returned to live here permanently in 1915. In 1936 he was given a doctor of divinity degree at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill.

Meanwhile, he had gained a national reputation as a teacher of the Bible to clergymen. He was founder and former president of the Hebrew Christian Alliance of America; a founder of the International Hebrew Christian Alliance, and a leader among converted Jews in this country and Germany.

He also did much research among the early documents of the Society of Friends. Among his published works were: "Studies in the Psalms of Israel," "Studies in Messianic Prophecy" and "The Mystery and Romance of Israel."

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Hans Grann, Reading, Pa.; Mrs. Parry L. Griffith, wife of the canon of St. Peterborough Cathedral, England; Mrs. Donald Tucker, Trinidad, British W. I.; and Mrs. Ralph Boyer, Silver Springs, Md., and five sons, William, Edward, John, Lawrence and Joseph.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday at the Friends Meeting House, Fallsington, near Trenton.

Mrs. Andrew Mutch Dies; Mother of Mrs. Knowlton

Mrs. Andrew Mutch, wife of the Rev. Dr. Andrew Mutch, minister emeritus of Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, died yesterday after a long illness. She was 75.

A native of Stirling, Scotland, Mrs. Mutch came to this country with her husband in April, 1912, at the time he accepted a call to the pastorate of the Bryn Mawr church. He resigned in April, 1936, and since then they have lived at 1337 Medford road, Wynnwood.

Surviving also are two sons, the Rev. Thomas S. Mutch, Morris-town, N. J.; and D. A. Mutch, Wayne; three daughters, Mrs. S. Brooks Knowlton, Sharon Hill; Maj. G. M. Ada Mutch, Army Nurse, Corps, now serving in Europe; and Mrs. Wyatt L. Brown, Greenville, N. C., and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at three p. m., Wednesday, at the chapel of Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. Interment will be in the cemetery of the Church of the Redeemer.
